

XRCVC - Viviana Extension is pleased to announce an Offline Training Workshop on the theme "G-Mail App with TalkBack & Ai".

The popular email app G-Mail is widely used by individuals for communication in education, organizations, etc. Visually impaired individuals regularly use Gmail on computers, as well as on Android-based mobile phones. However, they face unique challenges due to frequent updates, which can lead to accessibility and interface issues.

This one-day training workshop will offer hands-on experience on Android OS, focusing on using the Gmail app with TalkBack and using AI assistance for drafting emails.

Eligibility and Criteria:

- Participants should have a good knowledge of Android phone gestures with TalkBack and touch typing.
- Participants should be print disabilities, such as blindness or low vision, and be screen reader users.

Hurry! Limited seats are available for this session.

Interested individuals should kindly register using the link below: <https://forms.gle/wJqoZyVp1a9vwyEYA>
